

STUNNING BUT DEFICIENT EVENING!

(By Naveed Iqbal)

Sitting lonesome in my backyard.... and analyzing all the stunning colors, the entire tints of the evening..... the evening has all the charisma..... blended with all appealing shades with which the nature has painted it..... but its fascination would have multiplied a thousand times if You....only You were there..... your unification in the colours of eve would have turned the eve into a heavenly and a divine, celestial eve..... the calm of which would have been like the tranquil and serene that my head on your shoulder has when it's over it!